Deaths of William Taylor and Andrew Morrow—Temperance Society to Celebrate Anniversary of Father Mathew—Lightweights Win—Notes.

William Taylor died suddenly at his home, No. 275 Central avenue, Sunday morning at 1:15 o'clock. He was taken ill on Friday, and his death is therefore a shock to his many friends. For some time he has suffered with asthma, and this was the cause of his death.
Mr. Taylor was born in Denton, Lancashire, England, 54 years ago, and for forty years his home has been in this country, first at Hope, R. I., and then for a quarter of a century in Taftville.
He was employed as a section hand in the mile room of the Ponemah railroad until a year ago, when he retired and moved into his home at 275 Central.
In Hope, R. I., Mr. Taylor married Miss Harriet Hyatt, who survives, with two sons, William H. and Albert W. Taylor, both of whom are in the city. Mr. Taylor was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and a brother of the late Rev. J. W. Richardson of Taftville. He was a very kind and generous man, and his death is a great loss to his family and friends.

Andrew Morrow.

Andrew Morrow passed away early Saturday morning at his home, at 23 Dunbar street, after an illness of several years with consumption of the stomach. For the past week he had been confined to his bed, and on Friday his condition became so serious that his brothers in New Jersey were notified. During his illness he was tenderly cared for by his sister, Mrs. Mary J.
Morrow.

Mr. Morrow was born in Belfast, Ireland, 54 years ago. Much of his life was spent in this country, and for fifteen years he was employed at the local plant of the United States Fishing company. He was a well known young man, and his death is regretted throughout the community.
Mr. Morrow was never married. His father, David Morrow, died in 1885, and his mother, who was Mrs. Eliza Hanna, died on the same date four years before. He is survived by four brothers—Hugh of Milville, N. J., James of Union Hill, N. J., John of Belfast, Ireland, and Richard of Belfast, Ireland. Mrs. Morrow is survived by four sisters—Mrs. Agnes Mulholland of Belfast, Ireland, Mrs. Sarah Headen of Belfast, Ireland, Mrs. Nellie Winans of East Norwich, and Mrs. Mary Jane Morrow of Greenville.

Entertainment Committee Meets.

The entertainment committee of the Father Mathew T. A. society, Cornelius J. Downey chairman, held its meeting Sunday morning in the temperance rooms to consider plans for the annual observance of the anniversary of the birth of Father Mathew. Sunday, Oct.
10, was the real date of the birth of the noted temperance advocate, but the society will probably have its celebration a week from the coming Thursday.

The committee is also beginning to map out the winter's programme of entertainment. Weekly whists with a number of ladies' nights will in all likelihood be arranged, as usual.

Monday for Farnham, Canada, has received there word that her son and month she will be the guest of her brother and son in Farnham and her daughter at Wotton.

necticut company, who is now on the days of late ordered the Coventry

The 12th International congress on Alcoholism, held in London, was attended by about 1,400 members, including 400 delegates from abroad.

W. B. Birge Elected a Member to Fill Vacancy and W. A. Briscoe made a Trustee—More Money Needed for New Building.

The annual meeting of the corpora-tors of the Norwich Free Academy was held on Saturday afternoon at the Peck library with a good attendance, including Rev. J. W. Richardson from London. The reports of the secretary and treasurer for the year were read and approved, and there was a report from the Principal H. H. Birch dealing with the work in the school, the accomplishments during the year and recommendations. The work of the corporators in the corporation caused by the death of Frank T. Brown, and to fill that vacancy William B. Birge was elected.

To fill the vacancy on the board of trustees caused by Mr. Brown's death, W. A. Briscoe was the choice. Officers were elected as follows: President, Rev. Dr. Lewellyn Pratt; secretary, Costello Lipsett; treasurer, Francis H. Leavens.

The new Academy building is being erected steadily, being up now to the top of the second story and workmen are engaged in raising the staging for the purpose of starting the third and final story. On the front of the building, the stone arch for the doorway is about completed, Norwich Free Academy being cut in the stone across the front. Decidedly imposing is the new building, and so much larger than the old familiar structure that it completely changes the appearance of the grounds. A number of the corporators looked over the structure during the afternoon.

Treasurer Leavens states that the corporation has not enough money yet for the new building and more will be very acceptable. He states that there is about half the necessary amount available and that it is hoped that the citizens will feel moved to liberality when another appeal is made for funds, so that there will not be a debt on the new building.

STATE BAPTISTS TO MEET AT MYSTIC.

Annual Convention Set for Oct. 18, 19 and 20—The Programme.

The Union Baptist church at Mystic is to entertain the Baptists of Connecticut at their anniversary this morning, the gathering lasting for three days.
October 18, 19, and 20. Rev. Dr. A. B.
Coats, secretary of the Connecticut Baptist convention, is sending out programmes and other matter pertaining to the meeting. A number of the members of the church are making an appeal for the removal of the convention debt, which amounts to about $3,000. This is a deficit which accumulated during the raising of the restoration fund of over $25,000.
It is hoped that contributions will be received within the next week that will materially reduce this debt.
Otherwise the Connecticut Baptist convention is in a prosperous condition.
At the beginning of the convention year the budget of $7,000 was apportioned among the churches of the state and by the way they are responding it is probable the entire amount will be raised. Off the little more than $45,000 pledged to the restoration fund, about $25,000 has been paid in and it is hoped that the remaining pledges will be redeemed soon.

At this year's session only accredi-tated delegates will be allowed to participate in the business of the convention. The programme as arranged is as follows: The meetings opening Monday, Oct. 18, at 2 p. m. with the twenty-seventh annual conference of Baptist ministers of the state. The speakers will be Rev. W. G. Fennell of Hartford, on The Growth of Modernism, and Rev. Dr. A. G. Lawson of Waterbury, on The Faith of the Church.
Volumes worn out and discarded 673; volumes rebound 152; by state grant 51, by purchase 1,398; total 2,451. Worn out books replaced 165; total number of volumes in the library 37,738, not gain in volumes 956.

Number of visitors in the reading room on Sunday, October 1, 1909, to October 30, 1909, 1,773. Cards added to the catalogue 3,812; number of cards now in the catalogue 74,082.

Books in Foreign Languages.
Mr. Trumbull says: The most notable feature in the list of books added as compared with the previous year are the increases in books in foreign languages and in books for the young.
The increase in the number of books in foreign languages is mainly due to the introduction of more than three hundred volumes of the Bible in Hebrew, which were presented to the library by the Hebrew Progressive Education association when this organization was dissolved during the past autumn.
These books having been placed in the library for general use have attracted a large number of readers who have been able to read them in their own languages. The increase in the number of books in foreign languages is also due to the fact that the library has been able to purchase a large number of books in foreign languages at a very low price. The increase in the number of books for the young is also due to the fact that the library has been able to purchase a large number of books for the young at a very low price. The increase in the number of books for the young is also due to the fact that the library has been able to purchase a large number of books for the young at a very low price.

Two Pressing Needs.
Two items, money, and room for books and people, are the most pressing needs of the library. I feel that I should present these needs most urgently than ever before, as they have never been so urgently felt during the seventeen years of the career of the library as a free library. Many such institutions, especially in this state and in Massachusetts, are doing less work for their communities at a great expense, and under adverse conditions, than we are doing at a small or even eight times as large as ours.
Mr. Trumbull appends a list of books added from the 1st of January to the 31st of September, 1909, and by state grant and by gift, for the purpose of showing the character and scope of some of the more important additions.

Officials and Staff.

The trustees of the Otis library included: William A. Aldrich, president; John C. Averill, treasurer; Adams P.
Carroll, Frank L. Woodward, Henry A.
Threll, Oliver L. Johnson, Archibald Mitchell.
The library staff numbers: Jonathan Trumbull, librarian and secretary; Miss Irene A. Aldrich, Miss Elizabeth C. Crome, Miss Elizabeth Welden, Louis J. Hoss; substitutes, Miss Martha A. Ward, Miss Mildred Rogers, Louis E. Vandewater.

HAILE CLUB.

Sunday Afternoon Tea Attended by a Large Number.

The Haile club members were present in their numbers at the usual tea from 3 to 6, at which Miss Alice Stevenson and Miss Katharine Bray served. The guests were: Misses Lida Caley, Sarah Kelly, Katharine Nelson, Marion Bartlett, Ruth Jackson, Mollie Enos and Lottie Houldcroft.
Solos by Miss Nellie Delaney contributed greatly to the pleasure of the afternoon, her selections being The Rosary, Sing Me to Sleep, The Holy City, and The Dream. Miss Ruth Beetham was also heard in a prettily solo, and two vocal numbers by Miss Mollie James were delightfully given. She sang, "O Thou Poor Man, I Long for You." Notice was given of the business meeting this week, when it is expected that there will be an entertaining to follow, given by some young girls who do not belong to the club.

AT BROADWAY THEATER.

The Servant in the House.

It was only a fair sized but a much increased audience which saw "The Servant in the House" at the Broadway theater Saturday evening. It was one of the strongest plays seen here for some time, and it was the story previously read helps materially in following the idea of the piece. It absorbed the whole attention of the audience, and it was a real treat to see when perfect silence reigned save for the voices of those on the stage. Thorough appreciation of the work of the actors was manifested frequently, and there were several curtain calls.
The play combined comedy, tragedy, pathos, satire, and even the most Creston Clarke played superbly the role of the servant, the Christlike man giving sermon, precept and example.
A powerful presentation of the outcast brother was given by Charles Dalton, who is helped to find himself and find joy in service even as a dragoon.
George H. Irving is convincing in the role of the man who is a man of the year's role, while Lizzie Hudson Collier carried well the strong role of the worldly wife. The work of Frances Jordan as the niece aroused much sympathy and her ability won recognition.
G. Harrison Carter as the most worldly of English bishops, nearly blind, stondead, and with one foot in the grave, yet ready for personal aggrandizement at any cost to humanity, filled his part well, and even the part of the page boy with his cockney accents and outraged traditions of service required a actor of unusual capability, which one Henry Travers was.

NORWICH TOWN

At the First Congregational church Sunday morning, Rev. G. H. Ewing ceived him joyfully."—Luke 1:13.

On Friday evening the whist club of which Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kinney are members met at their pleasant home on Town street, it being their yearly anniversary. The evening was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Kinney. The evening was spent in the new building, and so much larger than the old familiar structure
ture during the afternoon.
